4. Monitors and accompaniment

When children are well accompanied, families can truly relax and enjoy themselves. Our team of monitors is trained in free play, respect, and emotional support. It's not just about supervising: it's about creating a safe space where each child can be themselves, play, and interact at their own pace.

Tribu House Monitors

Own team

Play and child accompaniment monitors, aligned with the Tribu House philosophy: respect, free play, emotional security, and careful attention. Recommended when there are many children, varied ages, or families wish to relax and delegate the care and management of the group.

Respectful accompaniment

Monitors trained in conscious parenting and emotional support, who respect each child's rhythms.

Free and guided play

We facilitate play spaces where children can explore, create, and interact naturally.

Safety and trust

We create a safe environment where families can disconnect knowing their little ones are well cared for.

Tribu House support monitor

Accompaniment in the play space, support in dynamics, general group care, and management of emerging needs.

From 100 € / 2h service

"Tribu House monitors don't just supervise: they understand the little ones, respect their emotions, and create an environment where they can be themselves. It's exactly what we were looking for for our daughter's birthday."

— Tribu House Family

5. Animation, Music, Face Painting, and Magic

Moments of entertainment, magic, and music are what children will remember forever. We work with artists and professionals who understand childhood, know how to connect with every age, and create experiences full of wonder, laughter, and participation. From animation shows to live concerts, each proposal adds something unique to your celebration.

Magic Art

Children's Entertainment

Animation shows, guided games, characters, and dynamic activities adapted to each age. Perfect when you want a "show" moment during the party, with all the children attentive and actively participating.
